1. Privacy notice for Students/Parents

Under General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR), tailored by the Data Protection Act 2018, individuals have a right to be informed about how the school uses any personal data that we hold about them. We comply with this right by providing 'privacy notices' (sometimes called 'fair processing notices') to individuals where we are processing their personal data.

This privacy notice explains how we collect, store and use personal data about students and parents.

We, The Courtyard Islington, Magdalene Gardens, Holloway Road, Islington, London, N7 8LT, are the 'data controller' for the purposes of data protection law.

The school's Data Controller is Deborah Shepherd, Headteacher

Our externally appointed Data Protection Officer (DPO) is Claire Mehegan, Data Protection Services, Grow Partners Ltd provided by London Diocesan Board for Schools (LDBS), (see 'Contact us' below).

The personal data we hold

Personal data that we may collect, use, store and share (when appropriate) about students and parents includes, but is not limited to:

- Personal information (such as name, unique student number and address, parent's National Insurance Number)
- Contact details and preference (contact telephone numbers, email addresses and home addresses).
- Results of internal assessments and externally set tests.
- Student and curricular records.
- Characteristics, (such as ethnicity, religion, language, nationality, country of birth and free school meal eligibility).
- Exclusion information.
- Behavioral Information.
- Relevant medical information (such as NHS information, health checks, physical and mental health care, immunisation program and allergies).
- Special educational needs information - EHCP's.
- Attendance information such as data scores, tracking, and internal and external testing).
- Safeguarding information.
- Details of any support received, including care packages, plans and support providers.
- Photographs (for internal safeguarding & security purposes, school newsletters, media and promotional purposes).
- CCTV images captured in school.

We may also hold data about students that we have received from other organisations, including other schools, local authorities and the Department for Education.

Why we use this data

We use this data to:

- Support student learning.
- Monitor and report on student progress.
- Provide appropriate pastoral care.
- Ensure we can safeguard our students and protect student welfare.
- Assess the quality of our services.
- Administer admissions waiting lists.
- Carry out research.
- Comply with the law regarding data sharing.
- Inform you about events and other things happening in the school.

Our lawful basis for using this data

We only collect and use students' personal data when the law allows us to. Most commonly, we process it where:

- We need to comply with a legal obligation.
- We need it to perform an official task in the public interest.

Less commonly, we may also process students' personal data in situations where:

- We have obtained consent to use it in a certain way.
- We need to protect the student's vital interests (or someone else's interests).
- Processing is necessary for the student's legitimate interests or the legitimate interests of a third party.

Where we have obtained consent to use students' personal data, this consent can be withdrawn at any time. We will make this clear when we ask for consent, and explain how consent can be withdrawn.

Some of the reasons listed above for collecting and using students' personal data overlap, and there may be several grounds which justify our use of this data.

A full breakdown of the information we collect on students can be in our record of Data Processing which is available upon request.

Collecting this information

While the majority of information we collect about students is mandatory, there is some information that can be provided voluntarily.

Whenever we seek to collect information from you or your child, we make it clear whether providing it is mandatory or optional. If it is mandatory, we will explain the possible consequences of not complying.

How we store this data

We keep personal information about students while they are attending our school. We may also keep it beyond their attendance at our school if this is necessary in order to comply with our legal obligations. This data is stored on a virtual G-drive. We take appropriate technical and organisational measures to safeguard the data.

Who we share Data with.

We do not share information about students with any third party without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

Where it is legally required, or necessary (and it complies with data protection law) we may share personal information about students with third parties, including but not limited to:

- A local authority – to meet our legal obligations to share certain information with it, such as safeguarding concerns and exclusions.
- The Department for Education.
- The student's family and representatives.
- Educators and examining bodies.
- Our regulators [ESFA, Ofsted, Independent Schools Inspectorate].
- Suppliers and service providers – to enable them to provide the service we have contracted them for.
- Central and local government.
- Our auditors.
- Our Sponsors.
- Survey and research organisations.
- Health authorities (NHS).
- Security organisations.
- Health and social welfare organisations.
- Professional advisers and consultants.
- Charities and voluntary organisations.
- Police forces, courts, tribunals.
- Professional bodies.

- Schools that a student attends after leaving us.
- Financial organisations.

Where we transfer personal data to a country or territory outside the European Economic Area, we will do so in accordance with data protection law.

Why we share information.

National Student Database

We are required to provide information about students to the Department for Education as part of statutory data collections such as the school census.

This data sharing underpins school funding and educational attainment policy and monitoring.

We are required to share information about our students with our local authority (LA) and the Department for Education (DfE) under section 3 of The Education (Information About Individual Students) (England) Regulations 2013.

Some of this information is then stored in the National Student Database (NPD), which is owned and managed by the DfE and provides evidence on school performance to inform research.

The database is held electronically so it can easily be turned into statistics. The information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and exam boards.

The DfE may share information from the NPD with other organisations which promote children's education or wellbeing in England. Such organisations must agree to strict terms and conditions about how they will use the data.

For more information, see the DfE's webpage on how it collects and shares research data.

You can also contact the Department for Education with any further questions about the NPD.

Youth support services

Once our students reach the age of 13, we are legally required to pass on certain information about them to their residential Local Authority or Youth Support Services provider, as it has legal responsibilities regarding the education or training of 13-19 year-olds.

This information enables it to provide youth support services, post-16 education and training services, and careers advisers.

Parents/carers, or students once aged 16 or over, can contact our data protection lead to request that we only pass the individual's name, address and date of birth to the Local Authority or Youth Support Services provider.

Transferring data internationally

Where we transfer personal data to a country or territory outside the European Economic Area, we will do so in accordance with data protection law.

Parents and students' rights regarding personal data

Individuals have a right to make a 'subject access request' to gain access to personal information that the school holds about them.

Parents/carers can make a request with respect to their child's data where the child is not considered mature enough to understand their rights over their own data (usually under the age of 12), or where the child has provided consent.

Parents also have the right to make a subject access request with respect to any personal data the school holds about them.

If you make a subject access request, and if we do hold information about you or your child, we will:

- Give you a description of it.
- Tell you why we are holding and processing it, and how long we will keep it for.
- Explain where we got it from, if not from you or your child.
- Tell you who it has been, or will be, shared with.
- Let you know whether any automated decision-making is being applied to the data, and any consequences of this.
- Give you a copy of the information in an intelligible form.

Individuals also have the right for their personal information to be transmitted electronically to another organisation in certain circumstances.

We reserve the right to verify the requesters identification by asking for Photo ID, if this proves insufficient then further ID may be required.

If you would like to make a request please contact our Data Controller/Headteacher: (deborah.shepherd@thecourtyardislington.org)

Parents/carers also have a legal right to access to their child's educational record.

To request access, please contact the School's Headteacher:

deborah.shepherd@thecourtyardislington.org

Other rights

Under data protection law, individuals have certain rights regarding how their personal data is used and kept safe, including the right to:

- Object to the use of personal data if it would cause, or is causing, damage or distress.
- Prevent it being used to send direct marketing.
- Object to decisions being taken by automated means (by a computer or machine, rather than by a person).
- In certain circumstances, have inaccurate personal data corrected, deleted or destroyed, or restrict processing.

- Claim compensation for damages caused by a breach of the data protection regulations.

To exercise any of these rights, please contact the schools Data Controller:
(deborah.shepherd@thecourtyardislington.org)

Data Protection Breaches

If you suspect that yours or someone else's data has been subject to unauthorised or unlawful processing, accidental loss, destruction or damage. Then we ask that you please contact Deborah Shepherd, Data Controller/Headteacher of The Courtyard School, and advise us without undue delay.

Complaints

We take any complaints about our collection and use of personal information very seriously.

If you think that our collection or use of personal information is unfair, misleading or inappropriate, or have any other concern about our data processing, please raise this with us in the first instance.

To make a complaint you can follow the school's complaints policy procedure that is available on its website or alternatively contact the School's Data Controller:
deborah.shepherd@thecourtyardislington.org

Our lawful basis for using this data

We only collect and use personal information about you when the law allows us to. Most commonly, we use it where we need to:

- Fulfil a contract we have entered into with you.
- Comply with a legal obligation.
- Carry out a task in the public interest.

Less commonly, we may also use personal information about you where:

- You have given us consent to use it in a certain way.
- We need to protect your vital interests (or someone else's interests).
- Processing is necessary for your legitimate interests or the legitimate interests of a third party.

Where you have provided us with consent to use your data, you may withdraw this consent at any time. We will make this clear when requesting your consent, and explain how you go about withdrawing consent if you wish to do so.

Some of the reasons listed above for collecting and using personal information about you overlap, and there may be several grounds which justify the school's use of your data.

A full breakdown of the information we collect on staff can be found herein the record of data processing which can be provided upon request.

Collecting this information

While the majority of information we collect from you is mandatory, there is some information that you can choose whether or not to provide to us.

Whenever we seek to collect information from you, we make it clear whether you must provide this information (and if so, what the possible consequences are of not complying), or whether you have a choice.

How we store this data

We create and maintain an employment file for each staff member. The information contained in this file is kept secure and is only used for purposes directly relevant to your employment.

Once your employment with us has ended, we will retain this file, holding onto the data for 5 years as part of the GDPR expectations. Afterwards the information will be deleted.
