September 14, 2026 – [New York, NY] – A brand-new visual, musically immersive symphony of senses, “Oprah Winfrey’s AHA” will launch for a once-in-a-lifetime event live at Sphere in Las Vegas for one weekend April 2nd, 3rd and 4th, 2027. Created by a global collective of musicians, artists and storytellers, Oprah Winfrey will appear live on stage alongside a variety of special performances that take guests on a profound journey of wonder, joy, and the ultimate “A-ha.” Presale sign-up and weekend packages are available to reserve now at AHALive.com.

“‘AHA’ is a dream that came to me as I sat in awe at the opening night of U2 at the Sphere, mesmerized by the possibilities of how the space could be used as a tool for creating greater awareness and understanding of ourselves and our connection to each other,” said Winfrey. “Creating this experience has felt like the culmination of what I’ve spoken about and worked towards my entire life.”

During the two-hour show, Oprah will appear live on stage along with special guests including groundbreaking performances from seven-time Grammy Award-winner Jacob Collier; poet and acclaimed author Ocean Vuong; musician Ajeet; and gospel singer Wintley Phipps, among others.

The collaboration brings together the best in their fields, with musical direction and original music from Oscar-nominated composer Max Richter; Grammy Award-winning musician and vocal director Jason White; and Grammy-nominated composer, producer, and electronic artist Jon Hopkins. Additionally, writing from MacArthur “Genius” Grant recipient, Oscar-winning screenwriter (Moonlight) and current Artistic Director of Geffen Playhouse Tarell Alvin McCraney; with original works by artist Es Devlin and the Plum Village Monks.

This journey of light, sound, music, storytelling, nature and shared humanity is designed by a world-renowned producing team including director Ethan Tobman, and produced by Emmy Award winner and Golden Globe-nominated founder and CEO of Silent House Group, Baz Halpin. Presented by Live

Nation, the event is executive produced by Oprah Winfrey, along with Producer of The Life You Want Tour, Founder of Together Live, and co-founder of Godmothers bookstore, Jennifer Rudolph Walsh, Harpo Entertainment's Emmy Award-winning executive producer Tara McNally Montgomery; Emmy Award-winning co-founder and partner of Fulwell Entertainment, Ben Winston; award-winning social entrepreneur Andrew Maxwell Mangino and Consulting Producer and Pinterest co-founder Evan Sharp.

These shows will utilize Sphere's next-generation technologies, including the world's highest-resolution LED display that wraps up, over, and around the audience creating a fully immersive visual environment. The venue also features the world's most advanced concert-grade audio system, Sphere Immersive Sound, which delivers audio with unmatched clarity and precision to every guest.
