EVERYBODY'S GOT A STORY ASSEMBLIES

MAKE IT UP AS YOU GO (K-2)

An interactive, sing-along assembly where Justin shares songs and reads from his picture books to explore the big idea that everyone has a story to tell. Along the way, kids discover that stories can come from anywhere — a memory, something silly you overheard, or just a rhyme that makes you laugh — and that the best ones often surprise even the person who made them up.

THE SONGWRITER'S NOTEBOOK (3-5)

A closer look at how songs and picture books actually get written. Justin performs and reads from his work while unpacking the craft behind it — alliteration, metaphor, rhyme scheme — and shows students how listening closely to the world around them and mining their own memories can turn into real, finished songs and stories. Built to connect directly with language arts concepts kids are already learning in class.

CLASSROOM WORKSHOPS

EVERYBODY'S GOT A SONG

During these intimate classroom visits, Justin leads the students through the songwriting process — Story, Structure, Style, and Sound — writing an original song together from scratch. At the end of the workshop, Justin records the class singing their finished song, and the school receives an MP3 along with the written lyrics to keep and share.

Works best with grades 4th and 5th but can be tailored for younger ages.

BOOK SIGNINGS

Pair Justin's visit with a local bookstore to have copies of his books on hand, and he'll happily sign them for students during his time at your school — a simple add-on that turns the day into a keepsake worth taking home.

Justin Roberts is a 5-time Grammy-nominated children's musician, author of 4 picture books published by Penguin, and creator of 17 albums of original music for kids and families. He brings live music and storytelling straight to your school — a day that gets K–5 students singing, thinking, and writing, built around one big idea: everyone has a story worth telling.

Justin is available for half days (2 assemblies) and full days (2 assemblies and 2 or 3 classroom workshops).
