“RK is an excellent, creative and imaginative designer. I have had the privilege to work with him on a key project at Informatica centered around APIs. He not only brings the key design patterns in front of us but also ensures that he adds more value to the design by providing great ideas. He comes with a neutral perspective that helps you get the unbiased viewpoint, for the best design. RK is a great asset to the team.”

~ Sorabh Agarwal, Director of Product Management, Informatica, Bangalore

I am a UX Design professional with 7.6 years of experience and I specialize in simplifying intricate challenges to deliver impactful, user-centered outcomes to help organizations achieve their business goals by increasing conversion rates, boosting brand perception, enhancing UX maturity, and forming high-performing teams. I have worked across IT Operations, Supply Chain, Corporate & Regulatory Finance, Data Management and Maintenance Management. In the past 2 years, I achieved a 70% increase in subscriptions for an integration product and relaunched a free API product into a paid service, achieving full monetization leveraging innovative UX strategies.
