The Switch to TeamLinkt

Managing sports logistics at High Park Ball Hockey League used to mean juggling between systems that lacked a personal touch and weren't especially adaptable to change, a real constraint for a non-profit league working to stretch every dollar.

TeamLinkt's hands-on approach changed that, with Al Zisidis, an executive with the league, pointing to quick adaptations to league-specific needs and affordability that he says compares to nothing else on the market.

"TeamLinkt is an exceptional platform for my organization, and it has made things so much easier. Their friendly support team is always there to help. It has been a real time-saver for us!"

The Results

For a non-profit league, every dollar saved is a dollar that goes somewhere else: more teams, better equipment, lower fees for families. That's exactly what's happening at High Park Ball Hockey League. And as TeamLinkt keeps improving the platform itself, that value keeps compounding season after season.

- ✓ Registration, scheduling, and communication now run on one platform.
- ✓ Communication with players and parents is now 60%+ more effective.
- ✓ More time and energy goes toward the game itself, not the logistics behind it.

- ✓ A Personal, Hands-On Approach
- ✓ Savings That Go Back Into the League
- ✓ Built to Grow With the League
