Better understanding RV's:

RV Finishes:

- Full Body Paint: Typically found on Class A's and some Fifth Wheels. Resembles car paint with a color base coat and clear topcoat. Offers greater durability against oxidation.
- Gelcoat RVs: Common on Fifth Wheels and Travel Trailers. Single-stage finish more susceptible to oxidation. Regular protection can delay oxidation, but once it occurs, our Vibrant Shine package cannot remove it. It's recommended to apply Vibrant Shine 2-4 times a year for Gelcoat maintenance (Depending on sun exposure).
- Aluminum Finishes: Typically on travel trailers. Consider polishing or using our recommended Ceramic Sprays.

Maintenance:

- Routine exterior detail maintenance preserves your RV's appearance and value. We offer customized RV detailing plans.

RV Roofs:

- Don't forget about your roof! RV roof replacement costs $5k-$10k. Our Deep Roof Cleaning & UV Roof Protection ensures roof health.

Detailing Considerations:

- Improper polishing can lead to holograms and swirls. We've mastered the art of proper polishing techniques.
- Use lambswool or microfiber, not brushes, on painted RVs to prevent micro-scratches.
- We use top-notch products suited for RV care.
- Choose carefully when selecting a detailing provider. Vibrant Mobile Detail puts the customer first, backed by a track record since 2013.

Ceramic Coatings:

- Ceramic Coatings are the latest and best way to protect your vehicle.
- Options range from Ceramic Sprays to full-strength Ceramic Coatings.
- Ceramic Coatings withstand high temperatures (482°F) compared to waxes (179°F), ensuring they stay put even on scorching days.
