Christophe Laudamiel

Master Perfumer

MINI BIO

Christophe is a master perfumer living and creating independently in Manhattan and at Bélairlab in Tokyo. As a fully trained engineer and avant-garde scent artist he pursued a successful career at Procter & Gamble, IFF and recently with Google and Osmo. He has launched several USA top-10 fragrances, multiple award-winning niche perfumes as well as olfactory art in galleries and museums (osmography). Founder of the Perfumery Code of Ethics, he is a vocal defender of the art as well as quality ingredients, molecular and natural. He walks the talk with farmers, new companies, on social media as well as with a new endeavor called Naked Ghosts.
