ARTIST STATEMENT

I see my artistic process as merging art, language and ritual to develop work that increases people's self-awareness and resilience—as well as interconnection, collaboration, and performance within families, groups, and organizations.

My mission is to provide creative products and services that build personal and collective capacity for creativity and interconnection. My vision is a thriving global community working at the intersection of art, science, and spirituality to create a more loving and inclusive world.

To learn more about my work follow my work on Instagram @_naialewis or visit NaiaLewis.Design for additional volumes of this coloring series and other media in support of the sacred.
