1 First of all, thank you again for keeping up with the updates of MEK Sans font. I'm in a complete lucid understanding that it's not a subject most art enthusiasts could relate with; but I do know that some of you, most especially fellow creators could find this as something exciting.

2A We're reaching the alpha #3 testing for MEK Sans. I hope you'd find the font to be- at the very least, an enjoyable toy that you could play with anything you're going to make.

2B Since I'm going to put the font as CC0 again, be completely at ease if you're planning to use this font for your long term project! (There will be Italic version for this font-also CC0).

3 This font along with the other ones are my present, a gift to the space that has been doing so much good to me. I hope we're going to continue to enjoy the space and genuinely create for fun for the long run!
