Beck Center For The Arts Presents Accessible Expressions, a Collaboration with Art Possible Ohio

Lakewood, Ohio—Beck Center for the Arts is proud to present Accessible Expressions, a collaboration with Art Possible Ohio, on view now through September 13, 2026, in the Berkey Courtyard.

Celebrating its 31st anniversary, Accessible Expressions Ohio (AEO) is a statewide adjudicated exhibition featuring artwork by 58 Ohio artists with disabilities. Founded in 1986, Art Possible Ohio works alongside artists of all ages with disabilities to advocate for accessibility and inclusivity, advance careers in the creative sector, build community, and improve the academic achievement of Ohio's students through arts integration. By bridging arts and disability, its programs and services promote inclusive spaces and accessible opportunities for Ohioans.

Through this collaboration, Beck Center continues its commitment to accessibility, inclusion, and creating opportunities for all artists to share their work with the community.

This exhibition is free and open to the public for all ages.

“We are excited to welcome Accessible Expressions Ohio back to Beck Center. This remarkable exhibition highlights the talent and creativity of artists with disabilities from across Ohio while celebrating the power of art to foster connection, understanding, and inclusion.” shares Jamie Richey, Associate Director of Visual Arts.

Special thanks to The Harry K. Fox and Emma R. Fox Charitable Foundation for their generous support.
