ABOUT US

The Birth of Lookaround.in

A Mission to Revolutionize Property Showcasing!!

It all started with a painfully relatable problem—house hunting online is a joke. You swipe through endless listings, zoom into blurry photos, and somehow, every place is labelled as "spacious" and "well-lit." But when you actually visit, Reality hits different—dark rooms, weird layouts, and spaces that feel nothing like the pictures.

That's when We—Likhith Reddy & Aashish Reddy—decided enough is enough. Why should property buyers, renters, and business owners waste time visiting places they won't even like? Why is the real estate world still stuck in the past, using old-school photos and misleading angles?

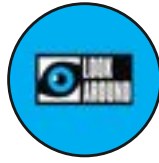

And then it clicked—what if people could walk through a property without actually being there? What if they could explore every corner, feel the space, visualize their future home or business—right from their phone?

That's how our 360° video tour service was born. We're not just offering property videos we're creating an entirely new way to experience real estate. No catfishing. No confusion. No time wasted. Just pure, immersive, transparent property exploration.
