

INTRODUCING THE INAUGURAL COHORT

L3

LongGame's Longevity Launchpad

Supporting the next generation of longevity ventures through capital, connections, and community.

For founders building the future of healthy lifespan extension.

WHY LONGEVITY, WHY NOW

A historic inflection point in human health.

Breakthroughs in biotechnology, AI-enabled discovery, computational biology, diagnostics, and preventative health are reshaping our ability to understand — and intervene in — the biological drivers of aging.

- Aging-related diseases remain the largest driver of global healthcare burden.
- Consumer demand for evidence-based health optimization continues to grow.
- Scientific progress is accelerating across therapeutics, biomarkers, and personalized health.
- Investors, researchers, and operators increasingly align around healthspan, not just lifespan.

The opportunity is no longer theoretical — it is investable.

Investing in the future of healthy lifespan.

We believe transformational outcomes emerge when rigorous science, scalable technology, and thoughtful commercialization intersect. For the inaugural cohort, we are focused on three high-conviction themes.

01

Partial Reprogramming

Technologies aimed at cellular rejuvenation, epigenetic reset, and biological age reversal.

02

Proprietary Data

Novel datasets, biological intelligence, infrastructure, and platforms that unlock unique insights into aging.

03

Science-Backed Consumer

Evidence-based products and platforms that translate validated science into health outcomes at scale.

WHAT IS L³

A founder launchpad for early-stage longevity companies.

L³ is LongGame's inaugural launchpad program, designed to surface exceptional early-stage longevity companies globally. The program combines four things:

Capital

Potential investment consideration from a total pool of up to $2M.

Diligence & strategic feedback

Direct engagement with the LongGame team throughout review.

Visibility & network access

Connections to investors, scientific leaders, and longevity ecosystem partners.

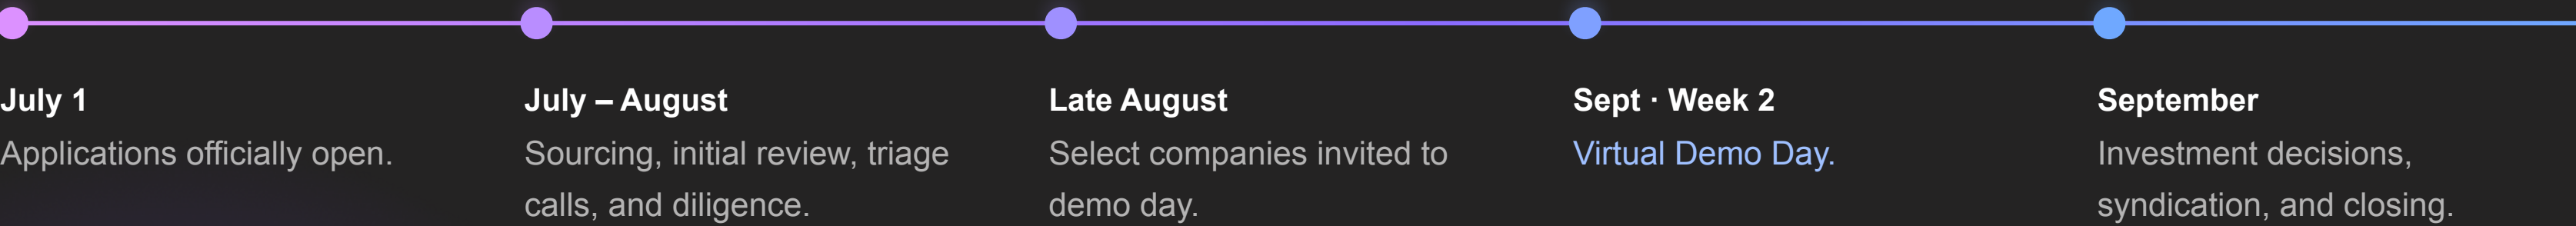

Demo day exposure

Select companies present at a live virtual demo day with invited KOLs, operators, and syndicate partners.

PROGRAM TIMELINE

From application to deal close.

 LongGame may move faster on exceptional opportunities already in market.

WHO IT'S FOR

We're looking for two kinds of people.

Founders

Early-stage companies building transformative solutions in longevity, healthy aging, and preventative health. We are especially interested in:

- Pre-Seed to Seed-stage ventures
- Strong scientific or technical differentiation
- Novel biological insights or defensible IP
- Founders with deep domain conviction
- Companies preparing to raise or complete early rounds

Ecosystem partners

Scientists, operators, KOLs, investors, and longevity leaders interested in supporting emerging innovation through mentorship, visibility, and syndication.

Scientists

Operators

KOLs

Investors

WHAT PARTICIPANTS RECEIVE

What founders gain through L³.

Investment pathways
Consideration for investment from LongGame Ventures and potential follow-on support.

Syndication support
Access to aligned investors and demo day participants to strengthen financing outcomes.

Strategic exposure
Visibility among longevity ecosystem leaders, scientific experts, and capital partners.

Founder access
Direct dialogue with LongGame during diligence and feedback.

Long-term partnership
We aim to support companies beyond the first check — through future milestones and value inflection points. Follow-on participation is determined case by case.

HOW COMPANIES ARE EVALUATED

Selection criteria.

We look for companies demonstrating strong potential across several dimensions.

01	Scientific or technical differentiation	Compelling science, proprietary insight, or novel approaches.
02	Founder strength	Domain expertise, ambition, and execution ability.
03	Commercial potential	Clear market opportunity and scalable pathways to impact.
04	Defensibility	Proprietary data, IP, unique infrastructure, or differentiated positioning.
05	Financing readiness	Ability to reach meaningful milestones through a successful financing pathway.

We value ambitious ideas grounded in scientific rigor.

DEMO DAY & SYNDICATION

Beyond the pitch.

L³Demo Day is designed to do more than showcase companies. Selected founders present to a curated audience of:

Investors

Longevity KOLs

Scientific leaders

Operators & partners

Our goal: help exceptional founders build momentum, strengthen syndicates, and advance financing conversations.
