

Katy has developed a strong reputation for successfully managing complex projects across the residential sector. Her eye for detail and project management skills are reflected in the quality of her work and the trusted relationships she builds with clients and project teams.

Her secondment role with a strategic land promoter has strengthened her commercial awareness and provided valuable insight into the land promotion and development process from a client perspective, enhancing her ability to provide pragmatic, commercially focused planning advice.

BSc (Hons) Geography – Sheffield Hallam University

MA Town and Regional Planning – University of Sheffield

Member of the Royal Town Planning Institute

Katy joined Planning Potential in January 2020 as an Assistant Planner and gained her chartership in March 2022. She is now an Associate based within the residential team.

During her time at Planning Potential, she has worked on a broad spectrum of projects ranging in size from several bespoke dwellings to major mixed-use schemes. Her latest involvements include 200 units in Maldon, reserved matters for 253 units in Braintree and 58 units and commercial floorspace in Greenwich, all of which secured local consents.

Katy has developed sound experience across all stages of the planning process, including strategic land promotion, site appraisals, planning applications, appeals and development plan representations for a wide range of residential and mixed-use developments. Through her project management skills, she has successfully led and managed complex projects, working closely with clients, local planning authorities and multidisciplinary consultant teams to deliver positive outcomes.

Outside of the office, Katy enjoys socialising with friends and family and in the winter months tries to get out on the slopes.
