PROFILE

- I am a digital product designer at the beginning of my professional journey, with a solid academic background in UX and design. I have experience both in team-based work on a year-long academic product project and in delivering my first individual commercial project, in which I was responsible for the entire process - from gathering information and working with the client, through designing and implementing the website, to handling the technical aspects and handing it over for further use.

EXPERIENCE

- English tutor
Role summary:
I provide English tutoring for primary and secondary school students.
2024 - 2026
- Web Design / Product Design - freelance
Role summary:
Designed and delivered a complete website for a private kindergarten, being responsible for the full end-to-end process - from gathering requirements and working with the client and staff, through UX/UI design and implementation, to technical setup, domain transfer, and handover for day-to-day use.
