MECHARO

Mecharo is a study in modern urban landscape - where street culture meets engineered form. Built from the language of infrastructure, movement, and mechanical precision, the collection draws inspiration from city systems after dark and utilitarian hardware softened by human wear. Purposeful, resilient, and stripped back, styles feel structural and confident, with subtle aggression balanced by clean geometry; while finishes reference industrial materials. Unisex, urban, and quietly bold; mecharo is grounded, real, and functional - a reflection of how people move through the cityscapes now.
