PORTFOLIO UPDATE

During July 2026, the Fund's NAV decreased by 0.03%, bringing year-to-date returns to 3.36%. The Iran conflict has become a recurring source of volatility rather than a discrete shock; structural supply buffers have nonetheless anchored longer-term oil prices. Headline CPI eased from 4.2% to 3.5% in June, core CPI moderated to 2.6%, and the underlying inflation trend remains contained. Labour markets softened, 57,000 jobs added in June, unemployment at 4.2%, wage growth at 3.5% YoY, driven by demographics rather than cyclical deterioration. GDP expanded 1.5% in Q2, led by AI capital expenditure, while savings rate dropped below historical averages to 2.7%.

The Fed held at 3.50%–3.75% and reduced forward guidance, steepening the yield curve as markets priced higher term premiums. Longer-dated yields remain additionally exposed to fiscal deficits; while the belly of the curve (2–5 years) has become more compelling on a risk-adjusted basis.

Silverdale Bond Fund remains positioned in high-quality, short-duration credit — where elevated carry and disciplined credit selection drive returns without undue interest-rate risk. The portfolio is diversified across more than 150 securities, with over 75% invested in investment-grade bonds and an average duration of approximately two years, supporting income visibility and capital preservation.
