

Ebook Outline

Fill in each row, then write one chapter at a time. Replace the words in [square brackets]. Most short ebooks have five to eight chapters: copy a chapter block to add one. Free to use for your own ebooks. Please do not resell the template. From Koobe, koobe.ai.

Plan	Your answer
The book
Working title	[A short title. You can change it later.]
Who it is for	[One kind of reader, as specific as you can: "new managers in their first 90 days"]
The promise	[What the reader can do after reading that they cannot do now]
Introduction	[The problem in the reader's words, why you, and a map of the chapters]
Chapter 1: [Chapter title]
Goal	[What this chapter does that no other chapter does]
Key points	[Two to four points, in the order you will teach them]
Example or story	[A real example, a client story or a moment from your own life]
Action step	[One thing the reader can do right after reading]
Chapter 2: [Chapter title]
Goal	[What this chapter does that no other chapter does]
Key points	[Two to four points, in the order you will teach them]
Example or story	[A real example, a client story or a moment from your own life]
Action step	[One thing the reader can do right after reading]
Chapter 3: [Chapter title]
Goal	[What this chapter does that no other chapter does]
Key points	[Two to four points, in the order you will teach them]
Example or story	[A real example, a client story or a moment from your own life]
Action step	[One thing the reader can do right after reading]
Chapter 4: [Chapter title]
Goal	[What this chapter does that no other chapter does]
Key points	[Two to four points, in the order you will teach them]
Example or story	[A real example, a client story or a moment from your own life]
Action step	[One thing the reader can do right after reading]
Chapter 5: [Chapter title]
Goal	[What this chapter does that no other chapter does]
Key points	[Two to four points, in the order you will teach them]
Example or story	[A real example, a client story or a moment from your own life]
Action step	[One thing the reader can do right after reading]

Plan	Your answer
Chapter 6: [Chapter title]
Goal	[What this chapter does that no other chapter does]
Key points	[Two to four points, in the order you will teach them]
Example or story	[A real example, a client story or a moment from your own life]
Action step	[One thing the reader can do right after reading]
Closing
Closing chapter	[Sum up the change. How is the reader different from page one?]
Next step for the reader	[One clear next step: a newsletter, a course, a call or your next book]