Fired twice. Made once.

Every piece is custom made by hand in my Swartland studio and finished in open fire, so no two are ever alike. I also make collections: sets of vases, bowls or saggar pots that belong together.

Raku

Pulled out red-hot.

The glazed bowl leaves the kiln glowing at around 980°C and drops into sawdust. Thermal shock cracks the glaze, smoke turns every line black. Each bowl is custom made, and can be fired as a matching set.

RAKU BOWL · 40 × 40 CM

DECORATIVE · NOT WATERTIGHT

Saggar

Painted by smoke.

The bare pot is wrapped in foil with copper, salt and seaweed, then fired slowly to 800°C. The fumes leave blooms of colour no one can repeat. Made to order, singly or as a collection.

COPPER FERRIC SEAWEED SALT SMOKE

Bowls, made to your scale.

Every bowl is custom made to your palette and scale. Order one statement piece, or a collection that belongs together.
