About The Vegan Accords

The Vegan Accords is a nonprofit movement dedicated to accelerating the adoption of plant-based living by building the cultural, community, and societal infrastructure necessary to support long-term systemic change. Through The Vegan Accords Cities Initiative, the organization seeks to develop a framework of standards and partnerships that encourage cities to create more visible, accessible, and supportive environments for plant-based living.

Cities play a critical role in shaping food environments, public awareness, tourism, business development, and community engagement, making them a powerful driver of the transition toward plant-based living.
