

Juicer airfares in Melon

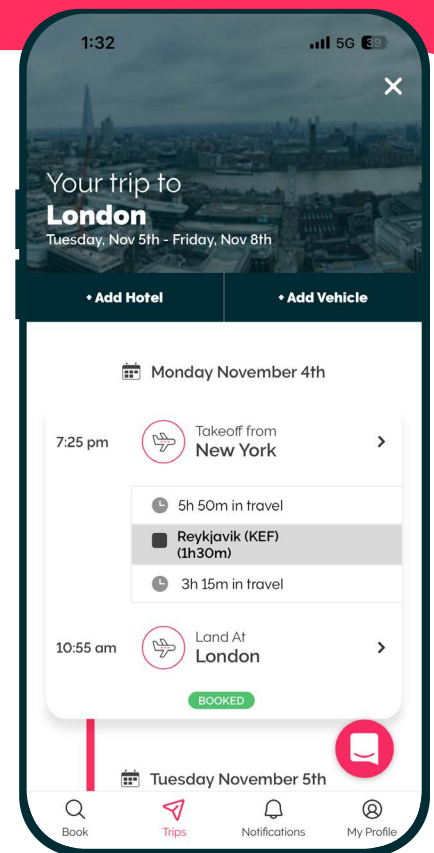

Guess what? We've added a new content source for airfares in Melon! We're excited to offer you more booking choice and better value fares.

NDC in Melon is growing

Exclusive content is now available through NDC (New Distribution Capability), enabling airlines to distribute flights more efficiently and offer unique fare options and pricing. With NDC content integrated into Melon, travellers can access exclusive fare types that include added perks such as preferred seating, priority boarding, and free same-day changes—all in one place.

At Corporate Traveller, we're working with the world's leading airlines to bring you the latest NDC airfares, ensuring your travel program stays ahead with more choice, flexibility, and value.

This new content complements your existing Melon inventory, which already features a variety of Edifact, direct API connections, and leading aggregators. Now, you can explore all flight options seamlessly in a single search. Convenient, right?

So, what is NDC?

New Distribution Capability (NDC) is a new way for airlines to sell flights to travel agents and travel bookers. This solution helps airlines offer more options and personalised fares.

Each airline is creating its own NDC solution, and travel companies like Corporate Traveller connect to these systems to give you access to better deals. As each airline builds its own unique NDC solution, the industry needs time to develop ways to access and fully test each solution to make sure it meets the needs of your business travel program.
