SENTORA COOKIE POLICY

Effective Date: May 29, 2026 | Last Updated: May 29, 2026

Applies to: sentora.com, defirisk.sentora.com, vaults.sentora.com

1. Introduction

Sentora ('Sentora', 'we', 'us' or 'our') operates three websites: the main website at https://sentora.com, the DeFi Risk Radar application at https://defirisk.sentora.com, and the Sentora Smart Vaults at https://vaults.sentora.com (together, the 'Sites').

This Cookie Policy explains what cookies and similar tracking technologies are, how and why we use them on our Sites, what choices you have regarding their use, and your rights under applicable privacy laws. It covers the EU General Data Protection Regulation ('GDPR'), the UK General Data Protection Regulation ('UK GDPR') together with the Privacy and Electronic Communications Regulations 2003 ('PECR'), and applicable US state privacy laws including the California Consumer Privacy Act as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act ('CCPA/CPRA').

This Cookie Policy should be read alongside our Privacy Policy, which provides further detail on how we process your personal data. Where the two sites have separate Privacy Policies, this Cookie Policy applies to both unless stated otherwise.

2. What Are Cookies and Similar Technologies

Cookies are small text files placed on your device when you visit a website. They allow the site to recognise your device and store certain information about your preferences or past actions. In addition to cookies, we may use the following similar technologies:

- Local storage and session storage: browser-side data stores used for functionality and performance
- Pixel tags and web beacons: invisible images embedded in pages or emails that track user behaviour
- JavaScript SDKs: scripts loaded by third parties (such as analytics providers) to collect usage data

For the purposes of EU and UK law, cookies and similar technologies that process personal data fall within the scope of both PECR (which requires prior consent for non-essential cookies) and GDPR (which governs the subsequent processing of any personal data collected). For general information about cookies and how they work, visit www.allaboutcookies.org.

3. How We Use Cookies on Our Sites

We use cookies and similar technologies across sentora.com and defirisk.sentora.com for the purposes described in this section. We also collect personal data through four additional mechanisms on sentora.com that are not cookie-based but are described here for completeness:

3.1 Newsletter Signup Form

The 'Stay Updated: Join Our Newsletter' form on sentora.com collects your email address and, optionally, your name. This data is collected for the purpose of sending you crypto analysis, news and updates about Sentora's research and platform. We will only send you marketing emails if you have given us your specific, informed and freely given consent by ticking the opt-in box on the signup form. You may withdraw your consent and unsubscribe at any time by clicking the unsubscribe link in any email we send, or by contacting us at legal@sentora.com. The legal basis for processing this data is consent under GDPR Article 6(1)(a).

3.2 Contact Form

The contact form at sentora.com/contact collects your name, email address, company name and message. This data is used solely to respond to your enquiry. We do not use contact form data for marketing purposes without your separate consent. The legal basis for processing this data is our legitimate interest in responding to business enquiries under GDPR Article 6(1)(f), or where you are making a request that leads to a pre-contractual relationship, Article 6(1)(b). We retain contact form data for no longer than 24 months unless a longer period is required by law or by the nature of an ongoing business relationship.

3.3 Cookieless Analytics (Plausible)

Sentora.com uses Plausible Analytics, a privacy-focused web analytics tool that does not set any cookies or use similar persistent tracking technologies. Plausible collects aggregated, non-personally-identifiable usage data including page views, referral sources, browser and device type, and approximate geographic location derived from the visitor's IP address at the time of each page view. The IP address is used solely for this geolocation lookup and is not stored or logged. No visitors are tracked across sessions or sites. All data is processed in aggregate form only. For further information, see plausible.io/privacy.

3.4 Server-Side Visitor Analytics (AudienceScan)

Sentora.com uses AudienceScan, a cookieless analytics platform provided by SD Marketing Ltd. (audiencescan.io). AudienceScan does not set any cookies or use localStorage; visitors are identified via a server-side anonymised hash. The platform collects page views, session behaviour, device and browser information, geographic data derived from IP address, UTM and referral attribution, outbound click tracking, and detects browser wallet extensions and connected wallet addresses when a visitor connects their wallet.

Because AudienceScan does not place cookies or store data on your device, it does not require consent under PECR Regulation 6. The legal basis for this processing is Legitimate Interests under GDPR Article 6(1)(f), as the data collected supports our understanding of website usage patterns and visitor engagement. Visitor event data is stored and processed in Google BigQuery (us-central1, Iowa, United States). An Article 28-compliant Data Processing Agreement is in place with SD Marketing Ltd. under the AudienceScan service terms. For further information, see audiencescan.io/sdterms.

4. Categories of Cookies We Use

We classify cookies into four categories. Strictly Necessary cookies are always active and cannot be disabled. All other categories require your explicit consent before being placed on your device.

Under PECR, we must obtain informed consent before setting non-essential cookies on your device. Our cookie consent banner satisfies this requirement by providing clear information and a genuine choice before any non-essential cookies are placed. The banner is designed in line with ICO guidance: non-essential categories default to off, and Reject All is presented with equal prominence to Accept All.
