To whom it may concern,

We worked with Digital Tails Group on the development of an advanced furniture configurator integrated with an e-commerce platform. The project encompassed not only technical expertise but also design and the creation of scalable, high-quality 3D models and textures.

Their professionalism, attention to detail, and ability to deliver a solution that accommodated a broad range of furniture models were evident throughout the project. The team worked closely with us to gather and refine requirements, ensuring the final product aligned with our business objectives. Their scalable solution was tailored to our needs, contributing to the configurator's long-term functionality.

Their clear and consistent communication made the collaboration efficient and productive. By addressing challenges effectively and maintaining focus on quality, Digital Tails Group ensured the project was delivered to a high standard.

We confidently recommend Digital Tails Group to organizations in need of a reliable and innovative technology partner.
