MOTIVATION

It is with great interest that I submit my candidacy for the position of graphic designer or web developer to your attention. My preference is for a position like web developer, although I also have a lot of experience as a graphic artist designer. In both roles I can use my creativity and technical skills to make valuable contributions to your team.

In recent years I have gained extensive experience with working remotely, something that has become even more difficult due to the corona pandemic has been further strengthened. This experience has made me realize that flexible working not only improves productivity, but also contributes to a better work-life balance.

While I appreciate the benefits of remote work, I believe that regular face-to-face meetings at the office (Netherlands) should be essential for effective collaboration and ensuring quality results.

I believe that the time I would spend on daily traffic jams, can be better used to be productive and add value to the work. A flexible work structure allows me to make even better use of my skills and fully focus on the projects that contribute to the success of your organization.

I look forward to further explaining my motivation in a personal conversation and hope to work together on great projects.

Yours sincerely,
Pim Faassen
