VEDIC VILLAGE RETREAT

There is a growing paradox in the way people want to live today. We seek community, yet value independence. We want stillness, yet resist slowing down. We long for nature, yet remain deeply embedded in modern rhythms.

Everybody wants a village.
Not everyone wants to be a villager.

It is within this tension that Vedic Village, a boutique hospitality brand owned by the Sabari Group, has shaped its philosophy. The group's foundation is rooted in the vision of its Founder and Chairman, Shashi Kumar Nair, who, despite the group's expansive growth, remains at heart a simple village man. It is his innate understanding of that grounded, communal spirit that informs the brand's direction. Rather than presenting itself only as a destination, Vedic Village Retreat positions itself as an environment designed to influence how people feel, think, and connect. Drawing inspiration from the emotional memory of village life, the brand reinterprets its essence for contemporary living.

OUR VISION

Our vision is to architect spaces that can quietly support clarity, conversation, creativity, and rest without forcing any one way of being. With intimate properties across South India, each location remains intentionally small in scale to preserve a sense of belonging and personal connection. Architecture across locations remains open and grounded, encouraging interactions with landscape, light, and community. The brand reflects a broader shift in how people define well-being. A sense of belonging. Familiarity. Space to be oneself. The freedom to arrive fully. Because while not everyone may choose to live in a village, many recognise the quiet value of what the village represents.

This is the way of living we hold sacred.
Quiet. Meaningful. Complete.

The Island of Mirrored Horizons
Alleppey, Kerala

VEDIC VILLAGE, ALLEPPEY

Alleppey is a historical port city where human effort and the sea coexist beautifully. Once a bustling hub for spice and timber trade, its hand-carved canals navigate a landscape nearly two meters below sea level. Vedic Village Retreat Alleppey, rests on a private island surrounded by the river on one side and green paddy fields on the other. A private boat from Pallathuruthy lifts you from mainland noise into the tranquil setting of the 32-keys retreat with groves and backwater life just beyond your door. One can experience the region's enduring relationship with its environment, revealing how Alleppey remains resilient and harmonious over time.

LIVING SPACES, ALLEPPEY

Spaces shaped by water, fields, and sky.

Private Pool Villas

Space for personal peace alongside a companion. A comfortable 1070 sq. ft. villa with a Private Plunge Pool offers views of river life, while the Open Shower mimics forest rain, transforming moments into restorative rituals.

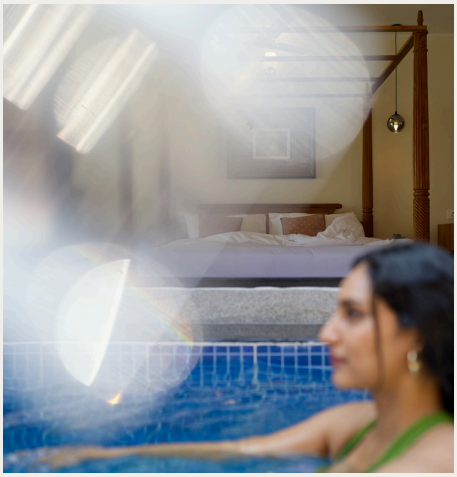

Lake View Rooms

The morning is a theater of waking life. A pleasant 430 sq. ft. room which overlooks the backwater. You might see a fisherman cast a net in a perfect, silent circle or a houseboat carving a slow line through the mist across the island.

Paddy View Rooms

Overlooking the vast, emerald stretch of the paddy fields is a cozy 470 sq. ft. room with a Balcony. It is a place of absolute stillness, the sight of a thousand birds crossing the sun as it dips below the emerald fields, a sunset that feels like the world is gently closing its eyes.

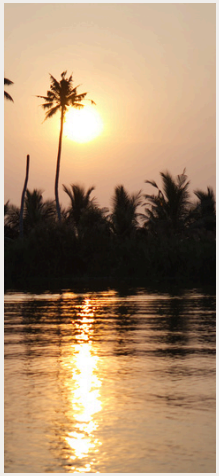

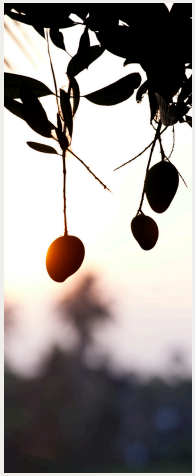

Private Pool Villas

A comfortable 1070 sq. ft. villa with an indoor plunge pool and an open shower. It offers a generous expanse that allows you to find your own corner of peace while remaining close to a companion. The verandah, which serves as the villa's outdoor patio, is lined with carved chairs and opens toward the river with a shared garden in between. Inside or outside, the villa always keeps the river in view with herons, canoes, and houseboats drifting by in no hurry.

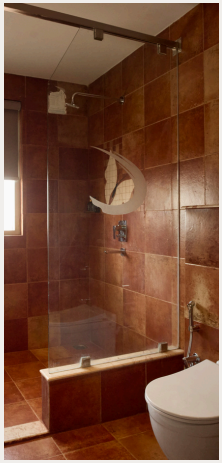

Lake View Rooms

Lake View Rooms open to the backwaters of Alleppey. At 430 sq. ft., each room accommodates up to 3 adults. As the curtains are drawn in the morning, the open balcony frames the backwaters like a stage presenting the life of Alleppey. Inside, polished wood, linen, and glass hold the same shifting light that plays on the water. Carved chairs and a coffee table beside the large bed anchor the room. A mini-bar within easy reach and a smart TV add to the comfort, alongside a spacious bathroom.

Paddy View Rooms

Paddy View Rooms span 470 sq. ft. and accommodate up to 3 adults, with a balcony that opens onto the paddy fields. A king-size bed anchors the room, alongside a writing table, a smart TV, a mini-bar fridge with in-room beverage amenity, and a spacious bathroom. Beyond the room, the fields stretch flat to the treeline, and the balcony draws in the afternoon breeze as evening light moves gently across the paddy.

A DAY AT ALLEPPEY

A day begins quietly. With a walk through paddy fields, the earth cool beneath your feet. Village paths open into small encounters - a nod from a local, fishermen working their nets, narrow canals reflecting palms and sky. Life here moves without urgency, inviting you to slow down and observe. As the hours pass, the backwaters draw you in. A gentle paddle, birds gliding low, the landscape unfolding at its own pace. By evening, the sky stretches wide, settling into soft colours over the fields. Or you may choose stillness instead - sitting in silence, reading, meditating, doing nothing at all. At Alleppey, every day finds its own rhythm, and every moment feels complete.

HOW TO REACH

Vedic Village Alleppey feels wonderfully removed, yet remains easy to reach. Cochin - By Road is 65 km away, while Alappuzha Railway Station lies 10 km from the retreat. Cochin International Airport, at a distance of 95 km, connects the backwaters seamlessly to the rest of India and the world.

The journey truly begins at the jetty. Leaving the noise of the road behind, guests arrive by a 15-minute boat ride, gliding gently across the water toward the retreat. It is in this quiet passage that the pace begins to change. The mind slows, the landscape opens, and the experience unfolds even before you arrive.

The Gateway of Arrivals
Kodungallur, Kerala

VEDIC VILLAGE, KODUNGALLUR

Kodungallur, with its historic roads and rivers, has a rich legacy of welcoming diverse cultures and ideas, stemming from its past as the ancient port town of Muziris. Vedic Village Retreat, Kodungallur occupies VP Thuruth, a heritage island in the Thrissur district of Kerala where the arms of the Periyar river meet the delta. The 16-key retreat offers an invitation to explore this land of exchange, where visitors can experience vibrant culture and contribute their own stories to its ongoing narrative.

LIVING SPACES, KODUNGALLUR

Spaces shaped by heritage & Periyar river

Heritage Rooms

Inspired by the local architecture and the weight of history, these rooms are built to offer a snug and protective comfort

Junior Suite Room

Our Junior Suites are our most expansive retreats, designed to offer a deep sense of privacy.

Premier Rooms

Defined by their peaceful verandahs, the Premier Rooms are spaces of quiet contemplation.

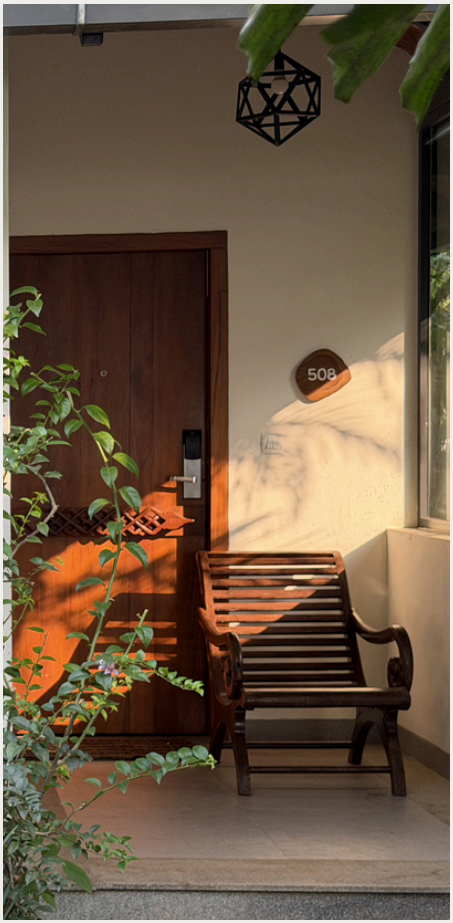

Lake View Villas

Sit in constant conversation with the water, overlooking the liquid paths that have defined this town for a millennium.

Junior Suite Room

The Junior Suites are the most expansive retreats at Kodungallur, offering 300 sq. ft. of space that includes a bedroom, a patio, and a bathroom with an open shower, designed for privacy. The generous layout creates room for the mind to unburden, inviting moments of pause as light moves through the heritage gardens.

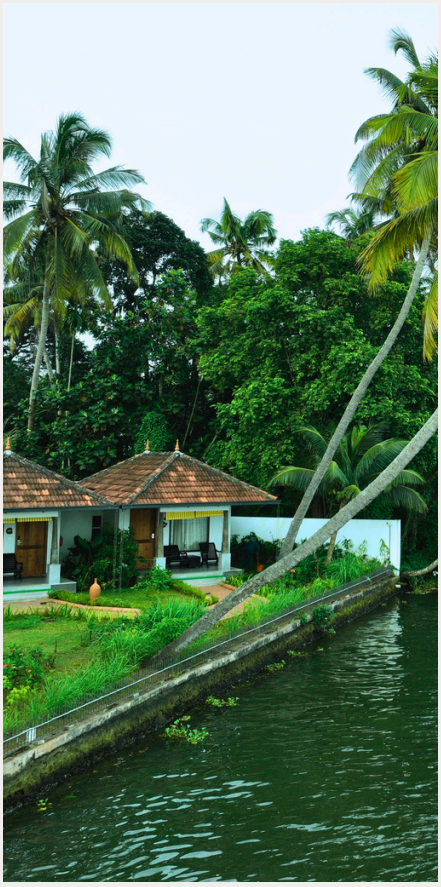

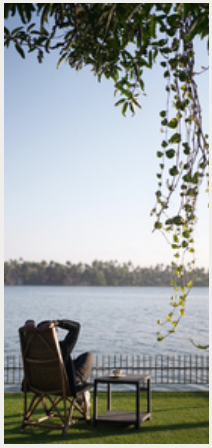

Heritage Rooms

The 200 square feet Heritage rooms are inspired by local architecture and history. The materials here reflect the coast and create a sense of timelessness that feels restorative and grounded. Long verandahs, cross-ventilated openings, and timber-clad ceilings and walls follow the traditional logic of keeping homes cool in the tropical heat, while together they evoke the familiar appearance of an ancestral home in Kerala.

Lake View Villas

Lake View VIllas with a spacious layout of 190 sq. ft. overlook the waterways that have shaped this town for centuries. These Villas open onto the shifting rhythms of the river, offering a calming view. Carved easy-back chairs line the verandah, recalling a traditional Kodungallur house opening onto its front yard.

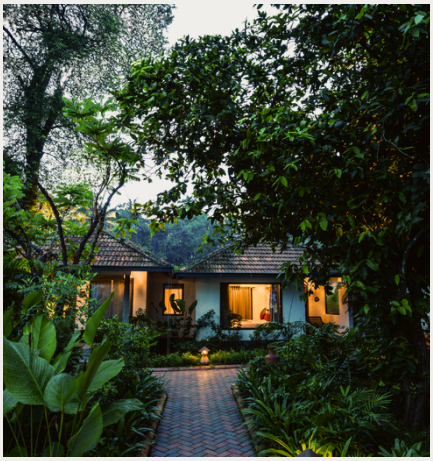

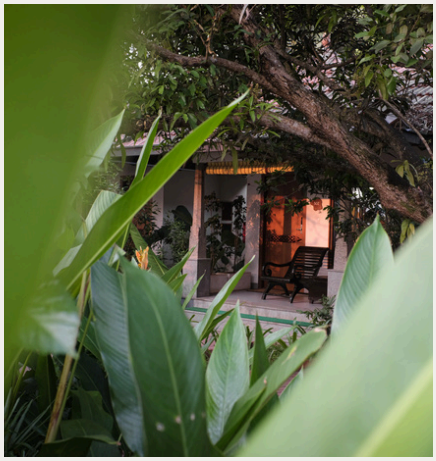

Premier Rooms

The 180 sq. ft. Premier Rooms are defined by their airy verandahs that open onto greenery. Across the rooms, details recall the long history of Kodungallur. Headboards woven from screw pine and wall niches holding terracotta objects allude to the excavations at Muziris, where craft and archaeology meet.

A DAY AT KODUNGALLUR

The day offers various paths: a tranquil boat ride on the lake, beach strolls with sea views, or exploring the town's rich cultural tapestry, including Jewish streets, synagogues, mosques, temples, and churches. As evening falls, the village paths glow in the sunset, concluding a day of peaceful connection with nature or the area's history, leading into the calm of night.

HOW TO REACH

Vedic Village Kodungallur feels quietly removed, yet remains easy to reach. Cochin International Airport is 40 km away, offering smooth connections to the rest of India and the world. Aluva (26km) and Ernakulam (36km) railway stations lie within comfortable driving distance, while Kodungallur town is just a short drive from the retreat.

The journey unfolds gradually. As highways give way to smaller roads, the surroundings begin to change - traffic thins, greenery takes over, and water appears at the edges of the landscape. By the time you arrive, the shift is already felt. The pace eases, the noise recedes, and the village begins to reveal itself.

VEDIC VILLAGE, SRIPERUMBUDUR

The spirit of Sriperumbudur is one of unbroken purpose. A temple town for nine centuries and a manufacturing capital for three, it has never let one identity step aside for the other. The gopuram rises beside the factory wall, and from its gates the finest silks and the sturdiest automobiles leave hand in hand for the world. Vedic Village Retreat Sriperumbudur, a 32-key serene retreat keeps a quieter ground at the heart of this corridor, offering a place to set aside the day's work and take in the town.

LIVING SPACES, SRIPERUMBUDUR

Spaces where tradition and progress coexist

Deluxe Room

Spacious and thoughtfully designed, the Deluxe Rooms offer elegant interiors and modern comforts across 281 sq. ft., ideal for a relaxing stay

Executive Room

Blending comfort with functionality, the 323 sq. ft. Executive Rooms feature refined interiors and a peaceful ambiance suited for both business and leisure travelers.

Garden villa

Surrounded by calming greenery, the Garden View Rooms offer nearly 450 sq. ft. of indoor and private garden space for a serene and refreshing stay.

A DAY AT SRIPERUMBUDUR

Beyond the industrial pace of Sriperumbudur lies a different side of Tamil Nadu quiet temples, open lakes, coastal roads, and destinations that invite you to slow down. From the timeless spirituality of Sri Ramanujar Temple to the calm waters of Pulicat Lake and the heritage-lined shores of Mahabalipuram, every drive unfolds into a unique experience. Whether it’s a peaceful morning escape, a scenic weekend route, or a journey through culture and nature, Sriperumbudur places you close to some of the South’s most memorable destinations.

GATHERING SPACES
VEDIC VILLAGE RETREAT

SARVAM

All Day Dining

Adapting to its landscape, Sarvam honors its surroundings through local flavors. In Alleppey, enjoy restorative meals bridging the lagoon and paddy fields , while Kodungallur's menu and nautical design celebrate its legacy as an ancient, global crossroads.

Available in Alleppey, Kodungallur & Sriperumbudur

SUKHAM

Spa and Wellness

Sukham is the literal experience of unburdening. While we sit in a land of ancient healing, we believe well-being is a personal choice rather than a rigid pursuit. Surrounded by the palms and the lake breeze, you can choose the path that resonates with your own body. Whether it is a traditional oil therapy or a simple, rhythmic massage to release the tension of the city, the experience is therapeutic and unhurried. It is an invitation to let your breath go and return to a natural state of fluidity.

Available in Alleppey & Kodungallur

JALAM

Restobar

Jalam means water. Flowing, inviting, ever moving. At Vedic Jalam, evenings unfold slowly in the spirit of togetherness. Crafted cocktails carry subtle local notes, conversations linger under soft light, and music drifts gently through the space. Casual yet elegant, the restobar becomes a place to gather, share, and unwind. A quiet celebration of connection, where moments are savoured and time is allowed to move at its own pace.

Available only in Alleppey

POOL

Embodying the fluidity of their surroundings, our minimalist pools act as tranquil thresholds. Whether set against Alleppey's endless paddy fields or suspended above Kodungallur's sweeping river, they offer spaces of absolute stillness where the landscape flows gently into your experience.

Available in Alleppey, Kodungallur & Sriperumbudur

BHŪMI

Lawn

Bhūmi is our central courtyard and shared earth, designed for absolute freedom and connection. Whether stargazing, walking barefoot on dewy grass, or enjoying morning stretches, these lush lawns are where the community breathes together under the open sky. Ideal for intimate weddings, family reunions, and festive gatherings, offering a vast, open-air courtyard to celebrate together under the sky.

Available in both Alleppey & Kodungallur

DARBAR - ALLEPPEY

Convention Spaces

Darbar is a space for gathering that refuses to feel closed in. Even when used for conferences or meetings, the room remains tethered to the natural world. Large and airy, it overlooks the shimmering paddy fields, allowing the mind to wander as far as the eye can see. We believe that clarity comes from perspective; here, the most complex thoughts find their resolution against the backdrop of an endless, peaceful horizon.

Available only in Alleppey

VEDIC VILLAGE, BENGALURU

Coming Soon...

Vedic Village's Bengaluru property is planned in the Ramanagara district of Karnataka, about 50 km south-west of Bengaluru along the Bengaluru–Mysore Expressway. Ramanagara is known for granite hills and scrub-and-rock landscapes that have served as film locations, including Sholay and A Passage to India, and for sericulture and silk weaving that still shape much of the local economy. Early rock-climbing centres, birdwatching pockets, and the Bengaluru–Mysore corridor together draw visitors toward Ramadevara Betta, a sacred hill that features in the epic of Ramayana, the folk-arts campus at Janapada Loka, Channapatna's heritage wooden-toy trade, Kanva Reservoir, and Mekedaatu, where the Arkavathi meets the Kaveri.
