Three Core Strengths

- Emotional Intelligence at the Core — Stories begin with real preschool feelings — jealousy, excitement, fear, frustration, affection, curiosity — and allow children to experience resolution through character, humour and everyday life rather than instruction.
- Forest-First Storytelling — Nature is an active participant in the Piku N Tuki world. Animals, weather, plants and the forest environment shape stories, discoveries and character moments rather than functioning only as background.
- Designed for Co-Viewing — Created for children and parents to enjoy together, offering children comfort, humour and recognition while giving parents warmth, trust and shared emotional moments.
